DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election of Group I, Claims 1-12 in the reply filed on Jan. 21st 2005 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

Claim Objections

2. Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities: in claim 1, last line, after "each" insert --other--. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by lazar (2,901,528).

Lazar discloses a coaxial cable termination system (Figure 3) comprising a coaxial cable having an electrically conductive core, an inner dielectric concentrically surrounding the core, and an electrically conductive shield concentrically surrounding the inner dielectric, wherein the core has an exposed core section, and wherein the shield has an exposed shield section, an electrically core body (20a) formed over the exposed core section and electrically connected thereto, and an electrically conductive shield body (30a) formed over the exposed shield section and electrically connected thereto, wherein the core body and the shield body mutually have direct current electrical isolation with respect to each other. Re claim 2, it has been held that during examination, the patentability of a product claim is determined by the novelty and nonobviousness of the claimed product itself without consideration of the process, being cast, for making it which is recited in the claim. In re Thorpe, 227 USPQ 964.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 8-12 are allowed.
6. Claims 3-7 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
7. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art of record does not teach or suggest a coaxial cable termination system comprising all the features as recited in the claims and in combination with the exposed core section being disposed entirely inside the core body, the core body encompassing a portion of the exposed inner dielectric section, the shield body encompassing a portion of the exposed inner dielectric section, the core body and the shield body being mutually separated a short distance at the exposed inner dielectric section, and with the coaxial cable substantially rigidly orienting the core body and the shield body in substantially mutually parallel relation to the core locally thereat (re claims 3 and 8).
